“ A person that departs from this earth never truly leaves, for they are still alive in our hearts and minds, through us, they live on. Please accept my condolences. Nacho will not be forgotten, he made an impact on many lives. His path crossed where his creator wished it to cross and his mission is complete. He has returned home. Many of us are sad by this news. He will live forever in my mind as the one who tired to help many.

“ Nacho was one of my best friends my heart goes out to his family and I met nacho when I was like 17 or 18 he always had a smile on his face no matter what you were going through he will be there for you if you needed someone to talk to or just hang out with for a few hours he was there. He also enjoyed fishing a lot like me I just wish I could of gone going fishing with him I can still remember his laughter his sense of humor always put a smile on my face love you brother. God bless you.

“ My sincerest condolences to Mrs. Hinojosa and to Nacho's siblings. I am still in disbelief that my dear friend Nacho is no longer here with us! May God's comfort and peace be with his family, especially with his mom. My heart aches for you Mrs. Hinojosa because I know how close you two were, he will be greatly missed!

Nacho was my brother's provider off and on over the past few years until his passing and he was someone I could always count on to help with him. May the angels take you to paradise Nacho, fly high with the angels, give my brother Abel a huge hug from me. Thank you for being such a kind and loving person to our family, rest eternal my friend!

Always,
Irene Ramirez

“ Ignacio will be dearly missed by his family and friends. In our family he was known as "Pelon" and "Nachito." I'm ten years older than him so I believe I referred to him as both when he was a toddler and into his preteens. As he got into in his teen and young adult year I started to call him Nacho. He had some of his Dad's awesome traits and mannerisms but at the same time he was his own man. When I'd run into him around town there was always a hug and he hugged me like he meant it, with lots of love. He'd ask about my parents, my sister and my kids. I don't believe I ever saw him in a bad mood, even when his was young kid. He was always happy. Hard to believe that he's left this earth for a better place and he's reunited with his father and family who are already in heaven, my father included. Nacho will always have a place in my heart. You shall be missed, Primo.

Love always, Nestor Hinojosa Jr.
