“ Grandma, you are a pillar of love and faith. I will always remember as a kid going to your house and I would go straight to the kitchen, pull out the stool from under the table, and eat your sweet Biscuits. I remember everytime we would go visit you had your rosary in hand and bible by your side and there was a break in conversation I could hear you start praying in a soft whisper. I will miss many things from your food to baked goods, but most of all, I will miss hearing you say "Mi Mari!" and will miss your bendiciones when it was time to leave. Your memory will forever live on in my heart. Te Amo Grandma, Su Mari
